TASTING NOTES

White Amic from Clos d'Agon is a light straw yellow wine, bright and clean.

It is the little brother in the family of white Clos d'Agon and, unlike his older brother, pretends to be a wine less complex, very fresh and easy to drink. However, the small contribution of Viognier, Roussanne and Marsanne (fermented in barrels) and the work with lees, aims to give it a touch of structure, volume and complexity.

In the nose it is intense, very fruity and fresh. Appear flavors of white flowers and herbaceous notes.

In the mouth it is very fresh, with a soft entrance and with slight bitter touches, that contribute in its weight, and saline, that give it freshness.

It is fatty and enveloping with a very lively acidity that gives it a long and friendly finish. Despite being conceived as a young wine, its acidity gives it keeping capacity for some years.

Climatologically, in our area, 2021 was a mild year with rainfall somewhat above the annual average. This rain was distributed fairly evenly throughout the year, resulting in the period from July to September being quite wet, which lengthened ripening and resulted in good-sized grapes with optimal acidity

All this results in wines with a lot of fruit, with fine and elegant tannins, with magnificent acidity, a contained alcoholic degree and, for all of this, excellent potential for aging and evolution, giving Amic white a long expectation of life

Wine Conservation:

For optimum evolution of the wine in the bottle, it is advisable to keep in place at a more or less constant temperature between 9 and 17 °C, with relative humidities of 65-80%, protected from light and, if possible, out of its box.

Consumption Tips:

Suitable to be tasted from the moment it is bottled. Its optimum consumption is during the year of its bottling. However, the characteristics of alcoholic strength and acidity allow White Amic to last for at least three years, provided that the bottle has been kept in the proper storage conditions.
